PART 3: CONVERSATIONS

Questions 41 through 43 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: This package arrived for Mr. Ozawa this morning.

Man: Who is it from? His boss?

Woman: No, his secretary. It's the report he needs for his meeting with Ms. Jones tomorrow.

Man: He's at lunch, but I'll put it on his desk with the rest of his mail.

Questions 44 through 46 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Oh, no! I left my wallet at my desk!

Woman: Don't worry about it. I'll pay for lunch.

Man: Are you sure? I ate such a big meal.

Woman: It's no problem. I'll use my credit card, and you can pay me later.

Questions 47 through 49 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Do you have a table for three of us tonight? We don't have reservations.

Woman: I can give you a table for three at nine o'clock, or at 8:45 I have a table next to the kitchen.
Man: We'll take the nine o'clock. We'll just wait in the bar until then.

Questions 50 through 52 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: White seems to be the best color for these walls, don't you think?
Man: White is good for the windows, but you need a better color on the walls.
Woman: You're right. How about yellow? Or blue? Blue would match the color of the rug and chairs.
Man: Sounds good. I'll get the paints and we'll start the day after tomorrow. On Friday.

Questions 53 through 55 refer to the following conversation

Man: Is Jim still working on that memo? I've got to see him before I leave.
Woman: Good luck. He missed the 3:00 meeting because he had to type the final copy.
Man: Well, I can't wait. I've got to catch the 6:00 train. I'm already late.

Questions 56 through 58 refer to the following conversation.

Man: We can't write this report here. Your office is too noisy. Aren't there desks somewhere where it's quieter?
Woman: Hmm. We could take the elevator to the first floor conference room.
Man: OK. Let's just take this computer and that folder of papers with us.
Woman: Fine. We can leave the pens and notepads here. They have all that downstairs.

Questions 59 through 61 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: Sam, who will be in your office tomorrow to go over these accounts with me?
Man: I'll be at a conference, but my boss will be there after lunch. He'll help you.
Woman: Great. He's more helpful than your assistant. I'll take him out to dinner after work as a thank you.

Questions 62 through 64 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: This is the newspaper ad you were telling me about, right? Briefcases on sale at 15 percent off is a really good deal. They'll probably sell out really fast. You should fax your order today.
Man: I think I'd rather call and order one over the phone.
Woman: Well, hurry, then. The sale ends tomorrow.
Man: No, it doesn't. Look, Saturday's the last day.

Questions 65 through 67 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: I'm so tired of this old photocopier. Did you realize it's broken again? The copies come out too light now.
Man: I'm going to report this right away. I have to get these copies made.
Woman: I already called the company. A repair person will be here at noon.
Man: Great. Well, I guess I'll read my e-mail while I'm waiting.

Questions 68 through 70 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: We have to discuss the conference plans soon. Can we meet this week?

Man: Sorry, I'll be away on a business trip for the rest of this week.

Woman: How about next Monday then? I'll see you in your office at 11.

Man: Monday's fine, but let's make it at one. I have a morning class.

PART 4: TALKS

Questions 71 through 73 refer to the following announcement.

The 10:30 train to Paris will begin boarding in ten minutes at Gate 15. Passengers who still wish to check luggage should do so now. Passengers with small children or those needing special assistance are asked to arrive at the gate five minutes before boarding time. All other passengers will be boarded in the order that they arrive at the gate. Passengers without tickets can purchase them on the train. Please be advised that on board the train we can accept cash only. Credit cards and personal checks will not be accepted.

Questions 74 through 76 refer to the following report.

Welcome to the five o'clock weather report. I know you're all tired of this long day of rain, but the good news is that the skies will finally clear up tonight. By tomorrow morning there shouldn't be a cloud in the sky, and it'll be warm and sunny all day. For all you people who've been wanting to make a trip to the beach, tomorrow should be the perfect day for it.

Questions 77 through 79 refer to the following announcement.

Attention shoppers. Take advantage of today's special in the meat department. Ground beef is on sale at two pounds for the price of one. Don't forget to check out our produce department where we have fresh vegetables and a variety of fruit available. Shoppers purchasing fifteen or fewer items can use our express check-out lanes. Don't wait in line. Just follow the red signs to the express lanes at the front of the store.

Questions 80 through 82 refer to the following talk.

Good evening, class. I'm Dr. Compton. First, I'd like to explain the requirements of this course. We'll use just one textbook. It's available in the university bookstore and is called Advanced Algebra. I'll assign about ten algebra exercises a week for you to do as homework, and you'll have a midterm exam as well as a final exam. Class begins at seven o'clock and I expect everyone to be here on time.

Questions 83 through 85 refer to the following announcement.

Good afternoon. I hope you're all feeling well-rested and energetic after that delicious lunch. For our next stop, we'll visit the Bob Wilson House. Mr. Wilson is an important figure in our history and was our city's first mayor. The bus driver has informed me that we'll have an hour to spend at the Wilson House. Then we'll go on to see the war-heroes monument. It'll be late by then, and we'll have to leave the art museum visit for another day.

Questions 86 through 88 refer to the following announcement.

Attention all employees. There are still a few tickets left for the year-end soccer tournament at the City Stadium. Anyone who wishes to join the company excursion to see the game should go to the front desk today to reserve your tickets. We've hired a bus which will leave from the front of the building on Saturday at six a.m. The bus ride is free. Join us on this exciting trip to watch your favorite players win the trophy.

Questions 89 through 91 refer to the following speech.

Good evening. I am pleased to introduce Ms. Lucy Park, the award-winning author of You, Too, Can Become a Millionaire. Ms. Park will read excerpts from her book and answer questions from the audience. Following that, she will be available to sign copies of her book. You can purchase the book at the back of the auditorium for twenty-five dollars. That's a special price available tonight only and is 10 percent off the usual cost.

Questions 92 through 94 refer to the following announcement.

You have reached the office of Pamela Jones, science reporter at the Daily Times newspaper. I'll be out of the office all week at the journalists' conference in New York. If you wish to speak to my assistant, press 1. To reach the main switchboard, press 2. To leave a message, please stay on the line. Start speaking at the sound of the beep. Thank you.

Questions 95 through 97 refer to the following recorded announcement.

You have reached the information hotline of Breezeway Airlines. The following updated flight information is available for this evening's arrivals. Flight 260 from Hong Kong will arrive twenty minutes late. Flight 75 from Sydney will arrive on time. Flight 186 from London will arrive one hour late. The delay is due to heavy rains over the British Isles. Flight 17 from Paris has been canceled due to a local blizzard. Now is the time to take advantage of our special sale. We still have sale-priced tickets available to selected destinations. Act now because the sale ends next week. Please note we will have a new flight schedule next month. Check our website for details. Thank you for choosing Breezeway Airlines.

Questions 98 through 100 refer to the following recorded announcement.

Thank you for calling the Starlight Cinema. Today we are showing the exciting action drama Lost in the Storm. We have shows today at 1, 3, 5, and 7:30 p.m. We will also have a special midnight showing of the mystery thriller Black Night. Tickets for this show will not be sold to anyone under the age of 18. All shows before five o'clock are half price. Cold drinks, hot popcorn, and other snacks are available for sale in the lobby. Please don't bring outside food into the theater.

PART 3: CONVERSATIONS

Questions 41 through 43 refer to the following conversation.

- Woman: Can you believe how early the meeting starts? Eight o'clock! We'll have to leave the hotel by six forty-five to get there on time.
- Man: I don't think so. Remember, it's not at the downtown office. It's at the conference center, which is not so far.

Woman: Oh, you're right. I'd forgotten. We won't have to leave till seven thirty if we go by subway.

Man: That's probably the best plan. The bus would be too slow, and I don't want to pay for a taxi.

Questions 44 through 46 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Can you cash this check for me, please?

Woman: Certainly, if you have an account with us. And I'll need to see some form of photo ID.

Man: I do have an account here. Here's my account number. And here's my driver's license, for identification.

Woman: Thank you. I'll just need you to sign the check on the back. Here's a pen.

Questions 47 through 49 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: I was wondering if we could get together next week to go over the accounts.

Man: I'm sorry, but I'll be out of town all next week visiting our branch office in New York. How about Monday of the following week?

Woman: I'm afraid I'll be tied up the entire week until Friday. It looks like we'll have to put off our meeting until next month.

Man: That's OK. I'll just go check my next month's calendar now, then I'll have my assistant call you back to set an exact date.

Questions 50 through 52 refer to the following conversation.

Man: When do you think you can have the budget report ready? I plan to present it at the meeting on Friday, so I'll need to see it before then.

Woman: Don't worry. I'll have it done in plenty of time. I can work on it all afternoon and have it ready for you tomorrow morning.

Man: That would be great. Could you bring it up to my office when it's ready? You can just leave it in the inbox on my desk.

Woman: Of course. You'll probably also need extra copies to pass out at the meeting, so I'll make some for you. Would eight be enough?

Questions 53 through 55 refer to the following conversation.

Man: I'd like to book a room for next week.

Woman: How many nights will you be staying with us?

Man: Well, I'll get there on Friday and plan to leave Monday morning, so that's three nights, Friday through Sunday.

Woman: Very good. A room for one person for three nights. I'll just need the number of your credit card so I can make the reservation for you.

Questions 56 through 58 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: What happened to you? I thought you were taking an early flight to Toronto this morning.

Man: I was, but all flights have been canceled because of the heavy rains.

Woman: Oh. I didn't know that. Do they expect it to clear up soon?

Man: Probably not until tomorrow. I'm going to have to wait until then because not even the trains and buses are running, there's been so much flooding.

Questions 59 through 61 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Excuse me. Can you tell me if there's a parking lot near here anywhere?

Woman: There's a garage just down the street on the next block, across from the grocery store.

Man: Great. Do you know what kind of fee they charge? I'm going to have to leave my car there for a while.

Woman: It's a city garage, so I don't think it costs anything. If you leave your car on the street, they charge you plenty, but there's no fee for using the garage.

Questions 62 through 64 refer to the following conversation.

Man: Guess what! I got the position I'd been hoping for! I'm moving up in the company, starting next Monday.

Woman: You got the promotion! I'm so glad for you. It'll be such a great change for you. You've seemed so bored at work recently.

Man: I know. I'm looking forward to having a more challenging job. Say, will you celebrate with me? We can go out for dinner tonight.

Woman: Why wait till then? I'm really hungry. Let's celebrate now, over lunch. My treat.

Questions 65 through 67 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: I'd like to make dinner reservations for quite a large party of people. There'll be sixteen of us. Can you do that? It's for some out-of-town clients who will be visiting for a few days.

Man: Of course. If you wish, you can also order your meal ahead of time. It's not a requirement, but we do recommend it for large groups.

Woman: Oh, yes, that'll make things much simpler. Your steak dinners are nice. We'll have that.

Man: Very good. I'll tell the kitchen. And, let's see, I can give you a table by the side window. That's the best seating in the house.

Questions 68 through 70 refer to the following conversation.

Woman: I got this beautiful new suit as a present from my husband for my birthday last month. I love it, but I need some shoes to go with it.

Man: What's the matter with the shoes you're wearing now? They look good to me.

Woman: These shoes are way too casual. I'm trying to get ready for a job interview. I can't wear these shoes for that. And I need them in a more serious color, like black.

Man: Oh, that's right. You have that interview next Monday. Why not take a trip to the mall on Saturday? You're sure to find something there.

PART 4: TALKS

Questions 71 through 73 refer to the following announcement.

May I have your attention, please? In approximately thirty minutes, we will be arriving at our final destination, Tokyo, Japan. Flight attendants, meal and beverage service is now over. Please collect all meal trays and glasses. All passengers, please return to your seats now to prepare for landing. Fasten your seat belts and return your seats to the upright position. For passengers needing information about getting around Tokyo and Japan, gate agents will be available after landing to provide you with hotel information, train schedules, and any other assistance you may need. We at Sunrise Airlines wish you a pleasant stay in Tokyo and thank you for flying with us.

Questions 74 through 76 refer to the following recording.

Thank you for calling the dental office of Dr. Sylvia Peterman, DDS. If you are hearing this recording, the office is closed. Our normal office hours are Tuesday through Friday from eleven a.m. until eight p.m., and Saturday from nine a.m. until one p.m. If this is an emergency, hang up now and dial our emergency number at 555-8566. To leave a message for Dr. Peterman, press 1. To request an appointment, press 2. At the sound of the beep, leave your name and number and the times of day that are most convenient for you. An assistant will call you back within 24 hours.

Questions 77 through 79 refer to the following talk.

These days, health experts are recommending forty-five minutes of moderate exercise a day for healthy adults. That may seem like a lot, but it's actually easier than you think. You don't have to spend three quarters of an hour every day at the gym. It's much easier to incorporate small amounts of exercise into your work day. For example, if you drive to work, park a few blocks from your office, then walk the rest of the way. When you arrive, don't take the elevator up to your office. Use the stairs instead. While you are working, take a break every so often. Get up from your desk and walk around the room or down the hall for five or ten minutes. If you develop habits like these, you'll find that by the end of the afternoon you may well have done more than the minimum amount of exercise recommended.

Questions 80 through 82 refer to the following advertisement.

This Saturday and Sunday only, Branwell's is celebrating its annual Customer Appreciation Weekend. To show how much we value our customers, we will be offering entertainment, refreshments, and a special two-day sale. Everything in the store will be marked down 25 percent. That's right, everything—men's and women's business suits, formal dresses, sportswear, travel wear, even children's outfits. There's something for the whole family. Special entertainment will be available for the children, and coffee and snacks will be provided all day. So come on down and celebrate with us. Doors open at ten a.m. both days.

Questions 83 through 85 refer to the following advertisement.

Out of work? No worries! We at City Jobs Corps can help find the right job for you, whatever your skills and experience are. Are you looking for a job as a computer technician? A hotel manager? An office administrator? We have job openings in all fields. We also provide assistance with resumes, cover letters, and interview skills. All our services are provided free of charge to city residents. Our office is conveniently located at 35 North Main Street. Visit us today. No appointment necessary.

Questions 86 through 88 refer to the following weather report.

The high winds that are expected to continue throughout the rest of the afternoon and evening have already caused power outages throughout the city. This has led to serious traffic delays in some areas, especially on the roads leading to the Green River Bridge. Trains and subways are running on schedule, however, so we recommend using public transportation today if at all possible. No school closings have been reported. Winds will continue through the night but are expected to diminish by morning. The next few days will be cold but sunny, with a chance of snow for later in the week.

Questions 89 through 91 refer to the following announcement.

Good morning and welcome to the Business Managers and Administrators Association Conference. Workshops are scheduled to begin in just a few minutes, at ten fifteen, and will go until twelve fifteen. All workshops will be held in the conference rooms on the third and fourth floors. A map is included in your registration packet. If you haven't picked up your packet yet, they are available at the registration desk in the main lobby on the ground floor. Lunch will be served in the hotel ballroom on the second floor from twelve thirty until one thirty. Following lunch, we will reconvene here in the auditorium to hear a panel discussion on the future of business management. OK, I think that's all. Oh, yes, there's complimentary coffee available in the lobby now if you would like to get some on the way to the morning workshops.

Questions 92 through 94 refer to the following announcement.

May I have your attention please? Due to damage caused by flooding on the tracks, train service to New York has been indefinitely suspended. All passengers holding tickets to New York for this afternoon and evening may take advantage of our emergency bus service. Buses are scheduled to leave at two o'clock, four o'clock, and six thirty. Passengers wishing to use this service should proceed to the waiting room half an hour before the scheduled departure. There are no reserved seats but there should be enough seating for everyone. We are very sorry for any inconvenience this situation may cause. At this time it is uncertain when regular train service will resume. We will provide updates as soon as we have any further information.

Questions 95 through 97 refer to the following news report.

A new bridge will be constructed across the Wilkus River, the mayor announced at a press conference at City Hall this afternoon. The bridge will connect Wilkus Park on the east side of the river with the west side business district. The goal is to ease commuter traffic as well as make the monuments and museums more accessible to tourists. Construction is scheduled to begin next fall and be completed the following September. Tomorrow the mayor intends to present full details of the construction plan, including budget and funding, during her weekly speech.

Questions 98 through 100 refer to the following talk.

We'll have a special surprise at one of our upcoming weekly staff meetings, let me check, yes, it'll be during the first meeting next month. Dr. Marwella Jones, a world-renowned expert on office management, will be visiting with us to talk about best practices in managing an office. She'll also be showing a video with highlights of her recent international speaking tour. It should be very interesting, however, the video showing will make our meeting a little longer than usual, so you should plan to be here that morning until lunchtime. This is a very special opportunity, so be sure to put the date on your calendar. If there is some pressing reason why you can't attend, please let me know as soon as possible.

PART 3: CONVERSATIONS

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

W: When did you get back, Evan? Did you enjoy Brazil?

M: I got back last week, and it was the best! I went to see a friend of mine who lives in Sao Paulo and ended up staying at his place for four weeks.

W: Good for you. I visited with my family there a year ago and I had a blast too. I guess your friend took you to a lot of tourist attractions.

M: Actually no. We spent most of our time riding the waves and enjoying the ocean. We partied a few nights, but you know me, I don't really enjoy partying.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

W: Can I cash this check here? It's for a hundred dollars.

M: I'll need two pieces of identification. A driver's license, a social insurance card, or a passport will do. Also, the service charge is ten dollars.

W: I have the ten dollars, but I only have my health card with me. Is that okay?

M: I'm afraid a health card is not a valid proof of identification. You'll have to bring me two other pieces of ID or else I can't cash this check for you.

Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation

M: Hi, I'm calling about the part-time positions that were posted on the website. Is the customer service position still available?

W: No. However, we still have openings for a housekeeper, front desk agent, and restaurant server.

M: I worked as a receptionist at my previous job. How would I go about applying for the front desk agent position?

W: Just e-mail us your résumé and we'll get back to you by the end of the week.

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation.

W: Do you have any plans for the long weekend, Jason?

M: Yeah, a few of us are going to Scarlet Mountain on Friday. I've been itching to go hiking all winter. I heard they have beautiful trails.

W: That's what I've heard too. Hey, did you know there are mountain streams where you can go ratting? You should really try it out.

M: We're not coming back until Sunday, so I think we'll try out as many activities as we can.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation.

W: I'm looking for a birthday present for my nephew. You're open until eleven, right?

M: Only on the weekends. On weeknights, we close at ten, which means we're closing in five minutes.

W: Really? I thought you were open until eleven. I just have to run to the ATM and get some cash. Can you stay open until I come back?

M: Sorry ma'am. We'd like to help you out, but if you don't come back in five minutes, we'll be closed.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

W: The highway traffic was so bad that I thought for sure I was going to be late. I think I'll use public transportation from now on.

M: That's why I never bring my car to work. You'd better hurry and get your things ready. The presentation starts in forty minutes.

W: You're right I should go and set up the conference room.

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation.

W: Dennis, what are you doing here? I haven't seen you in ages.

M: Hey Christine! This is a surprise. I haven't seen you since we worked those two months together at Hunting-ton Beach.

W: That's right. It seems like it was only yesterday, but three years have passed since we met. That was the best job I've ever had. Do you still have the award we received for being the best lifeguards of the season?

M: Of course I do! That is the best memory I have of the summer.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation

M: Excuse me. Could someone please bring us our cocktails? We've been waiting for quite a while now.

W: I'm very sorry. We've just been so busy tonight. I'll have your waiter go get them from the bar right away.

M: Please do. We really don't want to wait another half an hour.

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation.

W: Good afternoon, Lumsden Incorporated.
How may I help you?

M: Hello, my name is Felix from Curtis Servicing Company. I've been informed that you've been having some trouble with the photocopiers in your office. I can come in tomorrow afternoon and fix them, if that's okay with you.

W: I'm afraid that won't be soon enough. We have stacks of files that we need to reproduce by tomorrow, so is there any way you can make it by this afternoon. If not, this evening?

M: Okay, since your situation seems urgent, I'll try to get there between three and four o'clock today.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation.

W: It comes out to twenty-four dollars with taxes. Do you want to wear the necklace right now?

M: Actually, it's not for me. Could I have it gift-wrapped? And do you accept hundred-dollar bills?

W: We normally do, but we're very short on change today. For some reason, everyone's been paying with large bills today.

M: Oh, well. I guess I have to charge it to my card then.

PART 4: TALKS

Questions 71-73 refer to the following telephone message.

Mr. Erickson, this is Paul from Jerry's Repairs and Pm calling to let you know that the paint job on your van is finished and is ready to be picked up. We apologize for being a day late, but the special type of three-layer paint we used on your vehicle needed extra time to dry. Anyhow, we'll be open for another hour if you'd like to come by tonight. If not, you can pick it up tomorrow. We're open from 6:30 A.M. to 7 P.M. every day. See you soon.

Questions 74-76 refer to the following announcement.

This morning, I want to inform everyone about the changes to our recycling procedure. Before, we utilized the grey bins for all paper-made material, such as newspapers, magazines, and office papers. Also, we used the blue bins for all other recyclable products, such as cans, plastic bottles, and glass containers. From now on, you will be given brown paper bags for magazine recycling and yellow plastic bags for plastic bottles. The modifications we've made may take a little bit of getting used to, but I'm sure the color-coded list of recyclable items we've provided will help you sort things out.

Questions 77-79 refer to the following recorded message.

You have reached the office of Dr. Klein. The office is closed today because Dr. Klein is on vacation. The office will reopen on November 15 and return to our regular hours. Our regular hours of operation are from 10:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M., Monday to Friday, and from 12:00 P.M. to 5:00 P.M. on Saturdays. If you need your prescription refilled, you may call the office of Dr. Feinstein at 555-463-7583 and she will be able to help you. If this is an emergency, please call the Ontario Health Hotline at 1-888-555-4636 to find the closest hospital. We hope you enjoy the holiday.

Questions 80-82 refer to the following radio advertisement.

Are you about to throw out another rechargeable battery? Do your rechargeable batteries not last long enough for you? Let our new Niclith rechargeable batteries be the answer. Using the newest technology in combining Nickel- Metal Hydride and Lithium, we have developed a product that will help you get the most out of all your electronic tools and equipment. We guarantee that our batteries will beat out any other leading batteries on the market. And for a limited time only, when you purchase a set of four Niclith batteries, you will receive a free gift - our popular charger. Once you use Niclith, you'll never use another brand.

Questions 83-85 refer to the following announcement.

I'd like to welcome everyone to the Royal Hall Theater. Tonight, we are very proud to present the Sullivan Jazz Band and All Stars. The show will be split into two parts, and there will be a ten-minute break in between. Tonight's show will be a very special one, because during the course of the evening, the Sullivan band will be accompanied by several famous singers, including Russell Cadbury, Chaplin Clemens, and Mike Menendez. We anticipate this to be one of the greatest performances ever, and I guarantee you that you'll get your money's worth tonight. Thank you for coming and enjoy the show.

Questions 86-88 refer to the following telephone message.

Hello, Mr. Anderson, this is Gourmet Food Service calling about the special meals you've requested for your convention tomorrow. It will not be a problem to prepare the vegetarian meals as you've requested. Let me just double-check the ingredients so that the meals will be agreeable with your guests' dietary requirements. From the lists that you've provided, you do not want any meat, poultry, fish, or eggs. And the food items that are allowed are fresh vegetables, fruits, and soymilk. Also, we were not sure if beans were acceptable, so we did not include them on the list. Please make sure the food items I've read to you are correct and give us a call by 10 P.M. tonight if any changes should be made to the list. Thank you for your business and we'll see you tomorrow.

Questions 89-91 refer to the following interview.

It's funny you should ask that question, because as a child growing up near a farm, I always thought being a farmer was the coolest thing to be, and I actually was going to become one. Of course my perspective on professions changed when I moved to the city at eighteen. That's where I discovered my passion for the stage. But it was tough getting a part, especially for the first five years. I must've auditioned at least a hundred times and I couldn't get even the smallest role. In retrospect, I didn't know a thing about acting during that period. It sometimes amazes me that the same young foolish kid who couldn't buy himself a role has starred in fifteen Broadway plays.

Questions 92-94 refer to the following radio announcement.

The city of Oakville would like to announce the upcoming highway construction work to the residents. Highway 403 will be closed between Dixie and Hurontario for approximately four weeks. The construction work is scheduled to begin on Wednesday, September 10, but is subject to change depending on weather conditions. This section will not be open to traffic while the road is being widened. Please use alternate routes during construction. As always, we appreciate the public's cooperation and patience. For further information, contact the Public Works Department at 555-3500.

Questions 95-97 refer to the following talk.

Welcome to Minami Production. My name is Sandra Kim and I am the human resources director. I am very happy to have all of you as part of our workforce. There are some important company regulations that I must inform you about before we go around the premises. First, hardhats, safety goggles, and work boots must all be worn at all times when entering the area where our auto parts are produced. Second, in the event of any accident or mishap, you must report it to the floor assembly supervisor immediately. After we tour the production area, Mr. Lester, our operations manager will come by to answer any questions you may have about our company. Now, follow me everyone.

Questions 98-100 refer to the following introduction.

Good morning, everyone. In preparation for the upcoming business conference with our contacts in Miami, we have invited a special guest to assist us with our presentation skills. Anton Carter will instruct us on effective business presentations. More specifically, he will teach us for the next three hours about the different types of business presentations, content factors, the right kind of language, and delivery techniques. I should also add that Mr. Carter has recently been invited to teach a class on this topic at the University of Western Rorida. The next three hours are going to be very demanding, but I hope that you'll participate with enthusiasm and try your best. So, without any more delay, I give you Mr. Carter.

PART 3: CONVERSATIONS

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

- W: So, all that needs to be done is an oil change, right? How long do you think it'll take?
- M: I have to do a job on another truck first, so I'd say yours should be done by 5:30.
- W: It's 3:30 now, so that means I have to be back here in two hours. Is there anywhere around here where I can get access to the Internet?
- M: There is a public library just up the road. It's about a ten-minute walk from here. I'll see you in a little while.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

- W: Good morning. My name is Esther Lopez and I recently sent in a résumé for a nursing position at the hospital. Has someone been hired for the position yet?
- M: No, Ms. Lopez. We are in the process of interviewing our applicants. As a matter of fact, we were just about to call you today to set up an interview. Would it be possible for you to come in Thursday or Friday?
- W: Of course. Thursday would be perfect.
- M: Good. Why don't we set up the meeting for 11 A.M. and when you come in, ask to speak with the hiring manager, Chris Chapelle

Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation.

- M: Excuse me. I'm looking for a documentary. It's called The Brief History of Jazz. Which shelf is it on?

W: That would be on the special-interest rental shelf between the foreign films and the comic section.

M: I was there looking for about ten minutes and I didn't see it.

W: Well, just give me a second and I'll be right there to take care of you.

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation.

W: Good afternoon, Dr. Shamrock's office. What can I do for you?

M: Hi, my name is Ian Stone. I have an appointment for next Monday but I'm calling to cancel it. I have to go on a business trip on that day.

W: Let's see. How about on this Saturday? The doctor can see you at eleven o'clock.

M: Actually, I'm not sure what my schedule will be like on the weekend. I'll have to call you back. Thank you anyway.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation.

M: I bought a newspaper in here early this morning and I think I left my wallet either on the lottery counter or by the snack rack. Have you seen it?

W: No, I'm sorry I haven't. Our store's policy is to put all lost items behind the counter. So, no one has turned it in.

M: Can you please give me a call if somebody finds and brings it to you? Here's my business card.

W: Sure. I'll take a good look around for it when we do our nightly clean-up tonight. If it turns up, I'll be sure to call you.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hey Rachelle, do you know if there are any more overhead projectors in the building? I desperately need one for a product presentation tomorrow, and I can't seem to find one that is available.

W: Yeah, our department always seems to lack supplies and equipment. You can use the one I have after my five o'clock meeting with the J & L sales representatives.

M: Thanks, but that won't do me any good. My presentation is at four o'clock. Can you think of any other way I can get my hands on a projector before then?

W: Hmm. Let me make some calls to other departments to see if there is one available. I'll get back to you as soon as I find out.

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation.

M: It's almost eight and the guests have started to arrive. The banquet room is ready, right?

W: I'm so sorry, but there was a miscalculation regarding the number of guests, and we've just requested three additional tables. But I'm afraid they won't arrive until 8:30.

M: But the introductory speech is scheduled to start at 8:15! I'd better go and tell the guests about the hold-up.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hello, my name is Bill Derlago and I'm calling back to find out when my home Internet connection will be set up.

W: Let me see. A technician is scheduled to arrive at your residence on Tuesday, July 15.

- M: But that's next week. The person I spoke to on Monday told me it would be on this Wednesday.
- W: Please hold for a moment while I check the records to see which representative you spoke with.

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation.

- W: Well, Mr. Kim, we liked what you said in the interview and we'd like to offer you an opportunity to work for Troopers as market research manager.
- M: I thank you for the opportunity and I accept your offer, Ms. Stapler. I've had a great amount of interest in your company for quite a while now, and I feel that my years of experience in advertising will be a great asset for this job.
- W: We feel the same way. Why don't we go into my office? We need to discuss the details of the employment agreement. Also, when can you start?
- M: As soon as next week.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation.

- W: I just got the annual report and branch operating expenses are too high.
- M: What can we do about the problem? Should we consider closing some branch offices?
- W: Perhaps that is an option we should think about because some of our local offices do cost a lot to operate. Can you think of any other ways we can cut back on costs?
- M: We could lower the yearly expense budget by removing some of the miscellaneous costs or reduce the number of employees. Let me confer with the branch managers about it.

PART 4: TALKS

Questions 71-73 refer to the following talk.

On this panoramic city tour, you will visit the most important and representative buildings and monuments of Malton City. We will also travel around the noteworthy areas in the ancient quarters and the nineteenth-century streets. At the ancient quarters, a local artisan will accompany us to explain the ancient techniques of gold and silver refining. The visit will end at the Cowboy Longhorn where you can enjoy free refreshing drinks. On our tour, you'll be traveling on a deluxe, air-conditioned bus while an official tour guide reveals for you the deepest secrets of this marvelous city.

Questions 74-76 refer to the following radio advertisement.

Are your heating bills high and your home cold? Do you blame your gas company for your costly bills? Perhaps the problem is not your gas supplier. The source of your trouble just may lie in your place of residence. Most people are unaware of the fact that cold spots in a home are responsible for the majority of heat loss and are the main cause of high heating bills. Maybe it's time to call John's Sealing and Repairs. We'll be happy to do an energy audit to help locate and seal up those cold spots that waste valuable energy. We'll also compare your heating bills with those from homes treated with energy seal, and you'll see how much money you could have been saving! So don't wait and start saving now. Call 555-3949 to set up a free energy audit.

Questions 77-79 refer to the following introduction to a television interview.

Welcome, everyone. Today, we are going to interview the man behind The Quiet Storm, which has been the hot-test ticket since its first performance opened in New York three months ago. Van Theodore has a rare gift as a writer, and throughout his career, his works have earned a huge following, especially in Los Angeles and Atlanta. At last, Theodore's work will be available to our city, with the opening show scheduled to be performed on the Pop Theater's main stage. Today, our Chicago audiences will have a chance to get to know him better by engaging in a question-and-answer session with him.

Questions 80-82 refer to the following recorded message.

Hey Shawn, it's Will. It's three o'clock now and I'm calling about the game on Sunday. As you probably know, it's supposed to start pouring tonight and continue through the weekend. However, the rain is supposed to stop late in the afternoon on Sunday, around four o'clock. In any case, the game will be played at our regular game time, six o'clock. Also, don't forget to be at Roger Park before five so that we can get in an hour of practice. If you can't make it, make sure to inform Harold by Saturday evening. Bye for now.

Questions 83-85 refer to the following announcement.

Can I have everyone's attention please? We regret to announce that tonight's hockey game will be pushed back to Sunday due to poor ice conditions. The game will start at 9 P.M., not 7 P.M. The ticket stubs from tonight's game will be honored for the make-up game. Please note, for seating purposes, those with the stubs from tonight's game will have rights to the seats as shown on those ticket stubs.

Questions 86-88 refer to the following traffic report.

It's Sue Collins with the traffic report update. The north-bound traffic on Highway 400 just South of Islington Road is still bumper to bumper. This is the result of an earlier accident in which a tractor-trailer turned over and spilt the load of logs that it was carrying. Although the maintenance crew has been working hard to clean up the spillage, it is continuing to cause problems as only one lane is open. It looks like the freeway won't be fully cleared for a while, so if you're headed north-bound heading towards Islington, it would be wise to exit and take the local roads.

Questions 89-91 refer to the following report.

After months of consideration, Herron Automobile has decided to move to Mackenzie Town. Having looked for the most suitable location for seven months, the auto dealership chose Mackenzie Town for the following reasons. First, the location's proximity to the three local highways gives prospective customers easy access to the establishment. Second, since there are no other dealerships nearby, it does not have to worry about local competition. Lastly, because the area is highly populated, a large potential customer base is essentially assured. The owner of Herron has stated that he plans to make the new site three times as spacious as the current one and showcase more vehicles than ever before.

Questions 92-94 refer to the following report.

The residents of Remington will likely get a chance to give their opinions on a $5 million proposal to fix the city's streets in a March 6 special vote. If the proposal passes, construction will begin in May and is expected to take approximately four months. The mayor said his biggest concern now was whether the public could be convinced to support the plan within three months because the proposal would raise city property taxes. Citizens are encouraged to express their opinions and inquiries at local meetings before the vote.

Questions 95-97 refer to the following excerpt from a talk.

The company maintains high expectations of you, our interpreters. Interpreting one language to another can be one of the most challenging jobs there is. At the same time, this profession allows you the kind of personal freedom that you cannot get from any other job. I've had the pleasure of experiencing this firsthand throughout the two decades that I've worked as an interpreter. However, there is one thing you must always do first before attempting any type of language interpretation project. That is, you must first understand the culture from which the language originates.

Questions 98-100 refer to the following announcement.

Thank you for all being here today. For the past three months, we have been trying to decide on who should be promoted to chief financial officer. It has been a laborious process, but we are very pleased with our decision to select Stacey June as the next chief financial officer of Domi & Associates, Inc. Ms. June has been with us for two years now here in Seattle. She started out at the Chicago branch and she has fast-tracked her way through the ranks of this company with commitment and diligence. Upon completion of the three-week adjustment period, she will officially start serving in her new position at our head office in Detroit next month. We look forward to her continued excellence and hope that this will be the start of something great not only for Stacey, but also our company.

PART 3: CONVERSATIONS

Questions 41-43 refer to the following conversation.

M: Kilmer Insurance, this is Jammy speaking. How may I help you?

W: Hi, I'm calling to report the damage that occurred at my restaurant last night. I need to speak to Gino Gambino. Is he in the office today?

M: Sorry, you've called the automotive Insurance department. Mr. Gambino is an agent in the retail Insurance department. Would you like me to connect you to his direct line or give you his mobile phone number?

W: I need his number. Thank you for your help.

Questions 44-46 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hey Sandra. When are you leaving for the Mac Expo in Lisbon? I'm leaning towards one of the two available flights on October 9 at 6 P.M. or 9 P.M.

W: John, you're going awfully early. The Expo doesn't start until the fifteenth. I'm going to fly out on the thirteenth. I've just finished making my reservation.

M: Now that you mention it, maybe I'll go on the same day as you.

W: Great, then! But you should buy the tickets soon, before they're sold out.

Questions 47-49 refer to the following conversation.

W: Good afternoon, this is the front desk. How may I help you?

M: Yes, this is Frank Hale in room 2404. My shower's not working. I called this morning, but no one's been in to fix it.

W: Let me apologize, Mr. Hale. Someone should have been by already. I'll call maintenance and check for you.

M: OK. But I'm in a rush. I need to take a shower before I go out for a lunch meeting.

Questions 50-52 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hi. Can I get the number for a Trust Bank branch near Avenue Street and Yonge Street?

W: OK. I see that there are three Trust Banks near Avenue and Yonge. Do you know the address of the branch you're looking for?

M: Sorry, I'm not sure. Would it be possible to know which branch is nearest to the main intersection? And could you connect me please?

W: Of course. The number is 402-555-3988. Hold the line please while I put you through. Thanks for using Bell Direct.

Questions 53-55 refer to the following conversation.

M: Hi. I'd like to register for the quality assurance management symposium.

W: Of course. If I could just get your name, I'll find your symposium package and your name tag.

M: My name is Marvin Leonard. I'm an assistant director for the Advancement Institute. I was wondering, can you tell me where I should go to participate in the quality assurance simulation?

W: Sure. It will take place in Hall D on the second floor at 1 P.M.

Questions 56-58 refer to the following conversation.

M: I hope you haven't had dinner yet, Jady. I've brought some home-made fried rice.

W: What a pleasant surprise! I didn't know you could cook, Scott.

M: There really isn't much to it. I just boil some rice and pan-fry it with the ready-to-mix package.

W: This will go great with the pork chops I got from the restaurant. Help yourself to a drink. I have to finish doing laundry.

Questions 59-61 refer to the following conversation.

W: Eddie, come to meeting room number three in exactly fifteen minutes.

M: I thought today's meeting wasn't for another hour.

W: Something urgent has come up and I've got to catch the one o'clock flight to Hong Kong. That leaves me with only two hours to announce the modifications to our semiconductors.

M: OK. But I promised to call back a client in twenty minutes, so I'll be there as soon as I'm finished with him.

Questions 62-64 refer to the following conversation.

M1: Hey, Rick, what are those repairmen doing at the back of your store? Did something happen?

M2: Yeah, the heavy rain last night seeped through the cracks of the back door. Unfortunately, some of the keyboards that we had stored in back got wet and are no longer useable. Is your store okay?

M1: Yeah, we're fine. Did anything else get wet?

M2: Fortunately, everything else was at a safe distance from the door. It's a good thing the laptops weren't damaged. I'm getting the door sealed up right now, and I hope something like this doesn't happen again.

Questions 65-67 refer to the following conversation.

W: When are you leaving for Washington, Dave?

M: I've got a plane ticket for Wednesday, but it could change depending on what happens with our latest transaction. If the deal doesn't go through, I may not be able to leave until next Monday. Why do you want to know?

W: It's Mary's last day at work on Thursday, and we're going to have a farewell party that night. She would be really disappointed if you couldn't make it.

M: Really? Then I should take her out to dinner on Tuesday just in case I do leave on my original departure date.

Questions 68-70 refer to the following conversation.

W: This month's cell phone bill came in the mail today. I thought I was getting a discount, but I guess not.

M: Yeah, mine was quite costly too. Maybe they're charging for incoming calls.

W: Actually, I knew about that. But even still, I don't think the invoice should have come out to this much. I'd better call the phone company and check on the details of my bill.

M: I should do the same. At least their customer representatives are responsive. Give me a call afterwards, okay?

PART 4: TALKS

Questions 71-73 refer to the following telephone message.

Hi, my name is Philip Konerko and I'm calling to find out if the number six baseball field in the South Park will be available this Saturday. We are planning on having a game there and would like to use the facility from 5 P.M. to 7 P.M. Also, when we had an evening practice there last Saturday, four of the field lights did not work. My guess is that the light bulbs were probably out. Please give me a call at 555-9087. Thank you very much.

Questions 74-76 refer to the following talk.

Good morning everyone, and welcome to Watanuga, also known as the Town of Angels. I am Chinto and I'll be showing you the sites and attractions of this fascinating city. In the morning, we will visit the magnificent Imperial Building. Then we will take in the spectacle of the oldest temple in Watanuga. From there, we will walk along the Cacao River and board a ship where we'll enjoy a seafood lunch buffet and which has a beautiful view of the river. While on the riverside, please use the trash bins rather than throwing your garbage on the ground. After that, we will go to the shopping district where each one of you will be accompanied by a personal shopper who will help you find what you want and help you negotiate a good price. Shall we begin?

Questions 77-79 refer to the following talk.

Through our affiliation with Luther Law College, we have been providing financial law classes to our accounting personnel for over three months now. Although these classes are offered completely at the expense of our company, it seems that the majority of the staff in our branch have not shown a great deal of interest in taking part. Most of our personnel have mentioned that the classes take up too much time. The reason why I've brought this matter to your attention is that, as supervisors, we must always find ways to motivate our workers. One proposal I have is to offer more opportunity for promotion to employees for attending classes. If you have any other suggestions, feel free to express them.

Questions 80-82 refer to the following voicemail message

Hi, I'm calling from Dr. Shakur's office and this is a message for Gary Wasserman of the dermatology department. Last Friday, we ordered some medicine for our patient, Maria Gomez, but we have yet to receive it. The patient has a severe skin problem on her leg and she needs to apply the medicine as soon as possible. Please find out what has happened and return this call as soon as you are able. Our office number is 555-7458. Take care.

Questions 83-85 refer to the following weather report.

Good Monday morning, I'm Harry Eastwood with the weather report for this week. After a beautiful weekend, residents in the southeast can expect unseasonably cool and windy weather today. Today's high will be well below the average for this time of the year. Also, it looks like the week is going to go from bad to worse as a storm system will arrive late Wednesday. This storm will have a tropical connection and torrential rains will fall in the Coastal regions. Some of these parts may see up to ten inches of rain, and needless to say, flooding is likely to occur. Wind gusts from this event may exceed 75 mph. This storm is expected to die down early Friday morning, and the skies will be cleared by late evening, just in time for the weekend. We'll have the next weather report in the evening.

Questions 86-88 refer to the following talk.

I'd like to welcome everyone to the unveiling of the new and improved Percy Green Library. Following more than six months of careful planning, it took another eight months to remodel the building. The reception area has been expanded to create a more spacious environment, and the elevators have been rebuilt for faster travel between floors. Lastly, we have replaced all of the windows. The new windows have been specially treated to keep the building cooler in the summers and warmer in the winters. They should help us reduce our energy costs by 50 percent.

Questions 89-91 refer to the following news report.

In today's news, Singapore's Bick incorporated sent shock waves around the business world by announcing its merger with Macau's Tung Enterprise. The Bick representative stated it was the result of a year-long discussion in which both computer manufacturers methodically deliberated the pros and cons of the deal. The official consolidation of the two industry leaders will take place sometime next month. The spokesperson also stated that Bick Incorporated is aiming to increase its staff by 10 percent by the end of the year. They plan to start the hiring process as soon as the deal is sealed.

Questions 92-94 refer to the following instructions.

Since the entire accounting department's here, I'd like to explain the health plan for accountants. Ryerson Electricity offers eight medical coverage options. Depending on your medical history and needs, you may be eligible for all of these plans or just some. But once you choose a plan, you must keep it for twelve months. Before deciding on a plan, you must first have a medical checkup with your doctor and submit the medical report to us. Also, if you have a previous medical condition, you must wait at least six months before you can be covered for it.

Questions 95-97 refer to the following announcement.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is the captain speaking. We have just received word from the traffic control at Pacific Airport that they are experiencing unusually heavy traffic on the runways due to the wet-snow that fell earlier. Our scheduled landing time was 9 A.M. Pacific Time, but because of the hold-up at our destination, we expect to be set back about a half an hour or so. We are currently cruising at a comfortable altitude and the seatbelt signs are off now. The flight attendants will be coming around with refreshments shortly, so sit back and enjoy your drinks. We apologize for the delay and thank you again for flying Eastside Airways.

Questions 98-100 refer to the following excerpt from a speech.

Lastly, before we release our yearly report, allow me to reveal some of the particulars of the report that may be of interest to you. You've all worked hard in the past year and you deserve to know the results of your efforts. First of all, our profits rose by 48 percent compared to the previous year and I attribute this fact to our dedication to providing the fastest overseas shipping service in the nation. Furthermore, in a recent survey, 100 customers ranked us number one, mainly because they were very happy with how low our prices were. We have a lot of competition, and they are making progress every year to become the top shipping company. However, my view is that as long as we keep providing the same quality service that our customers have gotten used to, we will stay on top of this industry for a long time to come. Well done everyone, and I look forward to more of your fine work.
